Vancouver, BC, February 4, 2016 – Slater Mining Corporation (TSX-V: SLM) (the “Company”) announces that it has received approval from the TSX Venture Exchange to change its corporate name from “Slater Mining Corporation” to “Liberio Mining Corporation”.

In connection with the name change, the Company will consolidate (the “Consolidation”) all of its outstanding common shares on the basis of two (2) pre-Consolidation common shares for one (1) post-Consolidation common share. The reasons for the Consolidation are to increase the Company’s flexibility in the marketplace and to make the Company’s securities more attractive to a wider audience of potential investors.

The name change and Consolidation will be effective and Company’s common shares, currently listed on the TSX Venture Exchange under stock symbol “SLM”, will commence trading on a Consolidated basis under the new symbol “LBC” effective at the market opening on February 5, 2016 (the “Effective Date”). The new CUSIP for the Company’s Consolidated common shares is 53015J100.

The Company currently has 43,667,429 common shares issued and outstanding. As at the Effective Date, the Company will have approximately 21,833,714 common shares issued and outstanding. Any fractional interest in common shares resulting from the Consolidation will be rounded down to the nearest whole common share. Registered shareholders will receive a letter of transmittal from Computershare Investor Services Inc., the Company’s transfer agent, with information on how to replace their old share certificates with the new share certificates. Brokerage firms will handle the replacement of share certificates on behalf of their shareholders accounts.

The Company also announces that Robert Bell has resigned as Chief Operating Officer of the Company, though he remains a Director.
